First Summer Reading Program of the year, brought in with special guests from the Blank Park Zoo.

June 02, 2021

Blank Park Zoo

The Summer Reading Program is back! We got to blast the Summer Reading Program off with a couple of special guests from the Blank Park Zoo. We are so glad that they were able to make it all the way from Des Moines, Iowa. They got to come out with a few special guests of their own, as they brought a brown rabbit and a gecko for show and tell! All those who were able to participate got to see, meet and learn all about these amazing and adorable creatures! Thank you to the Blank Park Zoo and all those that attended and helped us get the Summer Reading Program back up and running for another great and beautiful year!

Bird Feeders

Every morning when we wake up we all hear the birds outside chirping and flying around. Well we thought it would be a great summer activity to create our own bird feeders! We read a book about birds and we were able to get down and dirty making feeders! This was just one of our take home crafts that we are doing as part of our Summer Reading Program!

Speaker from Sanford Museum showing off a coyote skin. June 16, 2021

Sanford Museum

Everyone has seen, pet, owned, admired or loved an animal. However we might not know all about those animals! Well we were lucky enough to have a speaker come out from Sanford Museum in Cherokee, Iowa to teach us the different animal classifications! Sanford taught us all about Mammals, Reptiles, Amphibians, Fish and Birds!
